

Mari/Responsible for What I Say & Do Daisy Petal:

1. Watch Mari's Story and answer these questions:
 - When did Mari show that she was being responsible for what she says and does?
 - How do you think she felt when she couldn't get ice cream with her cousins? How do you think she felt when she finished decorating the cupcakes?
 - How do you show that you're responsible for what you say and do?

2. With an adult's help, decorate cupcakes like Mari did, or make a simple snack (for example: trail mix, fruit kebabs, popsicles). Practice being responsible for what you say and do while making your snack!
 - If you promise to share your snack with someone else, make sure you actually do share!
 - Help clean up when you're done making the snack! Girl Scouts always leave a space cleaner than they found it.

3. Think of other ways you can show how responsible you are at home—maybe by picking up your room without being asked, putting away toys after you're done playing, or helping a sibling.
